

DM&A Administers Class Action Notice Activities in Connection with a Lawsuit Against D.R. Horton and Western Pacific Housing for False and Misleading Information

DM&A is administering notice activities in a class action lawsuit involving the “Promenade” condominium development in Playa Vista, California. Buyers of the condo units allege that, based on a sales brochure with false and misleading information, they were lead to believe that there would be secured parking. The class members allege that the parking at the development has never been secured and that the conduct of the defendants was unfair, unlawful and/or fraudulent in violation of California Unfair Competition Law. They also claim that they were overcharged for their units because without the secured parking, the unit price would have been lower. The class members seek restitution of money in the lawsuit.

Contact Wes Nutten for more information at wnutten@dmavalue.com or 310-216-1400.